TWO BIG SUITS FILED

Mrs. Mattie Wilkerson Sues to Recover Her Lost Inheritance.

She Wants the Deed to a Fine Farm Annulled—A Husband's Perfidy.

$25,000 ASKED FOR A BOY'S HAND

Mrs. Mattie B. Wilkerson this morning filed suit in the circuit court through Lightfoot and Yount against James A. Radford and Helen Sells Radford, of Hopkinsville, Ky., for the annulment of certain deeds, and a rescission of contract made last September, for $22,500, the value of certain lands Mrs. Wilkerson claims she was induced through the fraudulent connivance of her husband, to deed to Radford and his wife.

The story is an interesting one, and indicates that Mrs. Wilkerson has been badly deceived and swindled by her husband, from whom she is now separated.

She was formerly Miss Mattie Tucker, and lived at Hopkinsville. Several years ago she was left $21,000 by an uncle, Charles Radford, which she was to get when she became 21. About four years ago, before she was of age, she met M. L. Wilkerson, a dental student, and they were married.

Last year Mrs. Wilkerson became of age, and received the money. She was induced to buy a farm about eight miles from Hopkinsville, investing $19,000, and on this settled with her husband. He seemed dissatisfied, however, and soon began to importune her to sell it. She refused at first, but finally he brought around James Radford, who said he wanted the farm, and after several conferences he offered her $5,000 in cash, $2,500 in land notes, and a farm in Texas worth $9,000. With this understanding, she finally signed the deed to her farm near Hopkinsville, and the deed, at the request of Radford, was made out to his wife, Helen Sells Radford. About half an hour afterwards Mrs. Wilkerson boarded a train for Paducah, thinking that the remainder of the transaction would be looked after by her husband for her.

That all occurred on the 6th of last September, and subsequently it developed that the notes and all had been made out to her husband, instead of herself, and on October 5th the deed to Texas lands was made out to him, also.

A short time previous to this Mr. and Mrs. Wilkerson had separated, and she had filed suit here for divorce. It is claimed in the petition that the entire transaction was illegal, and she asks to have the deeds annulled, or for judgment for $22,500. The suit is certain to attract a great deal of attention, and Mrs. Wilkerson has many friends here who hope she will recover her property, of which she has seemingly been deprived through the perfidy of her husband, who is now said to be in Memphis.

Attorneys Lightfoot and Yount filed another big suit this morning in circuit court. It is Joe Billings, through his next friend, Herman Katterjohn, against the Paducah Furniture Manufacturing Company, for $25,000 damages for the loss of a hand. The boy was 14 years old last September when he was employed in the defendant's factory, and was required to move about dangerous machinery, and clean out a pocket around a saw. It was while attending to this duty that his right hand was caught in a saw and cut off.

THE WEATHER.

WORKMEN WALK OUT

A New List of Rates Submitted By Leather Workers Last Night.

Harness Makers at Rehkopf's Walk Out—The Collar Shop Shut Down.

DEMANDS OF THE UNION MEN

Many members of the leather workers of Paducah are idle today, as a result of a walk-out at the Rehkopf Saddle company. In all over 100 are not at work.

The union leather workers have made a demand on the Rehkopf company, Michael Bros. and the Paducah Saddle company for a uniform price on all piece work, that the firms employ only one apprentice boy to every seven journeymen, and that all girls in the shops be discharged.

There are few girls employed at present, but there are about three boys to every seven journeymen, and this is considered too many by the journeymen who make the demands.

Last night a committee waited on all the proprietors but no satisfactory answer was given them, the proprietors saying that they would answer at their leisure. The employees of the Rehkopf harness department, about fifty total, walked out last night and refused to return to work this morning, and held a meeting this morning to further discuss the rates arranged, and the general situation.

Last night Mr. Rehkopf closed down the collar shops on Court street, saying that he had a tall stock of collars and that the shops would remain closed indefinitely. This, it seems, does not suit the harness makers, some of them are in favor of a walk out in sympathy with the collar makers. There are about fifty-five out in this department.

Michael Bros. employ only two girls and say that the demands made on them will amount to little, but the proprietors talk as if they will accept the new rates. The men are all paid by the piece, each piece having a certain price, but in none of the shops are the prices uniform. This is the principal bone of contention.

Mr. Rehkopf does not seem to be in the least concerned about the situation and informed a reporter this morning that he did not care to talk, but would say that he gave the matter little thought.

The men in the Michael and Paducah Saddle shops still were at work this morning. The increase in the price will amount to about 10 cents on every set of harness, it is claimed by the workers.

A full list of the newly arranged prices was prepared by the men at a meeting this morning and the answer of the proprietors is awaited with interest. This is the first real serious trouble in Paducah between leather workers and proprietors.

It is understood this afternoon that Michael Brothers and the Paducah Saddle company have agreed to sign the new scale as soon as it is prepared, and another effort will be made to induce the Rehkopf company to sign this afternoon.

Mr. Charles A. Murray of Murray and Mack will play the comedy leads, and Miss Fannie Trumbull of "Flanagan's Ball" will be one of the members of the company.

Miss Desmond, of "A Royal Prisoner" company will play the juveniles, and Mr. Allen, who took the part of the count in "A Royal Prisoner," will play the old man character parts.

Mr. English's list of attractions speaks for itself. "Northern Lights" will be presented during carnival week. It is a military play, in which six horses and a company of militia will be used.

The vanderillo during that week will be furnished by Miss Kitty Mitchell, who is known in the profession as "The Lady Graceful of vanderillo," and receives $250 a week.

The Week in Society.

The Doings of the Smart Set the Past Six Days. Pleasant Events and Personal Mention.

A CHERD.

Over and over and over,
These truths I will weave in song,
That God's great plan needs you
And that love moves the world along.
That Will is greater than Destiny,
And that Love moves the world along.
However mankind may doubt it,
It shall listen and hear my creed;
That God may ever be found within,
That the worship of self is the only sin,
And the only devil is greed.
Over and over and over,
These truths I will say and sing—
That Love is mightier far than Hate;
That a man's own Thought is a man's own Fate,
And that Life is a goodly thing.
—Ella Wheeler Wilcox.

WEATHER—WINE AND OTHERWISE.

Well, we have weathered the weather of this week, and are nearer unto the good sort that must be coming here and there. While the social whirl has been mainly uneventful, life has not lacked for variety hereabouts, thanks to the weather. In fact, life must have a decided aromatic suggestion if variety is the spice thereof, for we have had all sorts and kinds. To plod in sun, rain, mud and slush, and then, most unkind, to have the keen rays of the soft spring sunshine manifest itself just long enough to show how very bedraggled and weather-stained our winter garments are, and to realize that as long as it is so "soft" underfoot, one must perforce wear the old clothes, is enough to force anyone "to take the bankrupt law in the matter of disposition." Though March has not been too kind to us, surely he has something better in store for us than the usually bright and sunny February had. If things weather-wise are going to be at sixes and sevens in this fashion, let March forsake the ways that have made the madness of the March hare proverbial, and cheer us with some glimpses of spring. It is true the weather has not kept the people from their clubs and informal amusements, we have become almost weather-hardened. However, the church attendance does not seem to stand the test of "inclement night" so well. What is the theory that makes cold caught more easily at this time than the other, and of a more severe sort? And did you ever hear of any one ordering a carriage for church on a "bad night"? Now, did you ever? One would not hesitate to do so for "functions" and "occasions," yet if our faith is not weather-proof and our garments as well, we needs must stay at home perforce. The strange things in this great old world are not without a queer aspect often, if you stand aside and watch the multitudes pass by. The position of the "man on the fence," may be, a lonesome one, but it has some things to be recommended, it is a good vantage point to see an every side.

MUSICAL CLUB MEETING.

The Musical club met on Monday evening in the lecture room of the First Christian church. A delightful program with the "Composers of the United States" for its central theme, was enjoyed.

The chorus of the club will meet with Mrs. Hubbard S. Wells on next Tuesday evening.

The regular monthly meeting of the Civic Federation was held on Wednesday morning in the parlors of the Palmer house. Beyond the regular reports from the different departments no business of importance was transacted. The Benevolent department have done a fine work this winter, reporting over $600 spent out in fuel, food and clothing. They reported $95 made by the Charity Concert.

The guest prize was won by Mrs. Nahn, of Bowling Green, the first prize by Mrs. Belle Well, the consolation prize by Mrs. Rosa Heyman.

The guests were: Mrs. A. C. Einstein, of St. Louis; Mrs. Nahn, of Bowling Green; Miss Jeanette Hecht, of St. Louis; Mrs. Moses Bloom, Mrs. Rosa Heyman, Mrs. Sol Dryfus, Mrs. E. B. Schwartzberger, Mrs. Moses Schwab, Mrs. Louisa Friedman, Mrs. John W. Keller, Mrs. Belle Well and Mrs. Bragauer.

MRS. MOSES SCHWAB'S CARD PARTY.

A pretty card party was given by Mrs. Moses Schwab, of North Sixth street on Monday afternoon complimentary to Mrs. Max Nahn, of Bowling Green, Mrs. A. C. Einstein, of St. Louis, Mrs. Samuel Newman, of Milwaukee, and Miss Jeanette Hecht, of St. Louis. The visitors' prize, a set of embroidered dollies, was won by Mrs. Samuel Newman, of Milwaukee. The first prize, a beer stein, went to Mrs. E. B. Schwartzberger, and the consolation prize, a book, to Mrs. Max Nahn, of Bowling Green. An elaborate and delightful three-course luncheon was served after the games.

The guests included: Mrs. Max Nahn, of Bowling Green; Mrs. Samuel Newman, of Milwaukee; Mrs. A. C. Einstein, of St. Louis; Mrs. M. Bloom, Mrs. E. B. Schwartzberger, Mrs. Herman Wallerstein, Mrs. Rosa Heyman, Mrs. L. Friedman, Mrs. J. W. Keller, Mrs. Joseph Hecht, Mrs. Leo Schwab, Mrs. Harry Livingston, Mrs. J. Wallerstein, Mrs. M. DELPHIC CLUB MEETING.

An interesting meeting of the Delphic Club was held with Mrs. Frank L. Scott, of North Ninth street. Goethe was the theme of discussion. The meeting was opened by quotation from Goethe. Mrs. Lillard Sanders in an able paper gave a "Brief Sketch of Goethe's Career." Mrs. Frank Parham told charmingly of "Goethe's Storm and Drang Period. Early Dramas and Sorrows of Werther."

After the program a business session was held and officers elected for the year. Mr. Robert Becker Phillips was re-elected president; Mrs. Richard Baker was made vice president, and Mrs. John Campbell secretary and treasurer. Mrs. Frank Scott is the Delphic hostess for the month of March.

PRETTY BIRTHDAY DINING.

Mrs. W. F. Bradshaw celebrated the eightieth birthday of her mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Wheeler by a dining given at the handsome Bradshaw home in the West End portion of the city on Tuesday. It was a very delightful occasion and quite a handsome entertainment. Mrs. Wheeler wears her years with a charming grace, and by her brightness and lovable nature has won many friends in Paducah where she spends every winter with her daughter. Most of the guests at the pretty dining were past sixty-five years of age, and it was a most interesting occasion.

BANQUET IN MISS FLORA MAE CLARK'S HONOR.

Miss Flora Mae Clark, of Paducah, who is to appear as "Lygia" in "Quo Vadis" at the Kentucky on Monday night, and will be accorded quite an ovation in her home town, will be the guest of honor at an elaborate reception and banquet at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Clark, of West Clay street on Sunday evening. It will be a very swell affair. The home is artistically decorated for the occasion. The banquet table will be laid with covers for thirty-six guests. The menu cards are quite a triumph of art, and will be charming souvenirs of the evening, as each one contains the picture of the fair young girl, and "L. L." the initials of her mother, Mrs. Lillian Lancaster, done in silver. Just beneath the picture is the happy quotation:

"Tis my picture:
Refuse it not; it hath no tongue to vex you."

The oostallions interspersed through the menu are all from Shakespeare's plays, and are very clever selections. The cards were designed by a sister, Miss Eugenia Clark, the talented and versatile writer, and reflect credit on her cleverness.

The menu is both elaborate and delightful.

THE AFTER-EASTER CONCERT.

Much interest is being evinced in the coming of the Jessie Bartlett Davis concert Company to our city on April 1. Not only are there many anxious to hear her, but it is also, a matter of pride that she should come to Paducah, and then, too, the cause for which she is coming is very near to Paducah's heart, her Home of the Friendless. The ladies of the Board have been out canvassing for the tickets this week and are meeting with much encouragement. Great success should attend upon this rather daring enterprise of the Board of the Home. They have proved that their faith in their fellow citizens is great, and their faith should be rewarded and no doubt will be.

MAGAZINE CLUB MEETING.

Mrs. John P. Campbell was the hostess of the Magazine Club on Thursday afternoon. It was an unusually delightful meeting of this pleasant club, there being visitors present besides the members. Interesting reports were given by Mrs. Edward L. Atkins from the Century on "The Venice of Robert Browning," and by Miss Alice Compton from "The Outlook," on the "Children's Department of the Public Library." Mrs. B. E. Reed gave some extracts from the "Life of Eugene Fields," selected from "The Literary Digest" and "Everybody's Magazine." Harper's magazine was represented by Mrs. John Campbell who told of "Korea," and Miss Ora Leigh, who gave an entertaining article on "The Current Point of Views of Fiction." A pleasant special feature of the meeting was Miss Aline Bagby's clever recitation of "Cigarette's Ride." A delightful luncheon was charmingly served.

RECEPTION TO MRS. BIEDERWOLF.

A reception is being given in the parlors of the Palmer house this afternoon from 3 to 5 o'clock by the ladies of the city in honor of Mrs. W. E. Biederwolf of Monticello, Ind. Mrs. Biederwolf is very charming and agreeable, and has made many friends here during her two weeks' stay.

Of the wedding of a former Paducah boy, the Memphis Commercial-appeal says: "A very quiet wedding celebrated Thursday evening at the parsonage of the First Methodist church united Miss Kathryn E. Stearns and Thomas L. Lee, Jr., the Rev. J. O. Morris, D. D. saying the service in the presence of relatives and a few friends. Miss Stearns' home is in Waterloo, Ia., but she has spent the winter in the south for the past three years. She has a wide circle of friends and acquaintances. Mr. Lee is a well known and popular young man of one of the oldest and best families of Kentucky, but has spent most of his life in this city, and is at present a valued employee of J. H. Coffin and Co. Mr. and Mrs. Lee left at once for a short trip to Louisville, Cincinnati and other northern cities, and will be home to their many friends after March 15, corner Madison and Stratton avenues." NEW OFFICERS.

CHESS AND CHECKER CLUB ELECTED FOR THE ENSUING YEAR.

The Chess, Checker and Whist club met last night and elected officers for the ensuing year as follows: J. Q. Taylor, president; Henry Diehl, vice president; William Bradshaw, Jr., secretary, and Nolen VanOulin, treasurer. The newly chosen directors are Robert L. Reeves, Henry Diehl, Harry L. Meyers and Nolen VanOulin. There are 65 members of the organization, and the report of the treasurer shows that it is in a flourishing condition financially. Its rooms, over the Lendler and Lydon store, are surpassed by none in the city.

HONORS WERE EASY.

Here specimens of McHardy Repertory That Cut.

"There are fellows you dislike at first sight and feel like saying something mean to," remarked the young man with the gigantic shirt collar as a troubled look crossed his face. "I know such a fellow—met him on the car almost every day—and for the last year we have been saying sarcastic things whenever opportunity afforded. I've been looking for a chance to hurt him real bad by making him feel his smallness, and I thought I had got it the other day."

"I got a stain on my winter overcoat that wouldn't come out, and so I took it to a second-hand dealer. He offered me a pair of trousers in exchange and I took them and three days later I met my enemy on a crowded car. My heart gave a thump as I saw he had my overcoat on and was putting on a heap of style. I got good and ready and then told him that it was useless to fool with that stain, as I used to own that coat and knew all about it. He turned as white as death for a minute and I thought I had him, but he made a quick rally and replied: 'Many thanks, sir, and I ought to tell you about those trousers. I wore 'em for two years and they always shrunk two inches every time I had 'em redyed!'"

"And what followed?" was asked, says the Detroit Free Press, as the young man panted.

"What could follow?" he asked in a pathetic voice. "I sneaked out of the front door and he out of the rear, and if either of us knows who's ahead we ain't saying anything about it!"

From an Author's Journal.

Following is an extract from the journal of an author who has not been fortunate enough to write a successful novel: "Rose at 5 and thought out plot for a short story. At 8 I rung the breakfast bell, moved the chairs around the table and rattled the knives to fool the neighbors. Wrote two poems on the world as a great place to fast in; also a short article to prove that appetite is a mere delusion. I then went to the postoffice to hear the clerk say there had been a wreck on the road and my check for a late manuscript wouldn't arrive until after Christmas. The clerk observing that it was a beautiful day, I went out and dined sumptuously on the climate."—New York Telegram.

LET THE FUR FLY.

The people of this section have read about the Boer war and the Philippine insurrection and the Boer outrages in China, but they have not yet learned of the thrilling but unsanguinary conflict that is now being waged to Marshall county between Commonwealth's Attorney W. F. Bradshaw, of Paducah, and Attorney W. Mike Oliver, until recently editor of the Benton Tribune, and candidate for the office of Mr. Bradshaw now holds. It is a war of words, but it is a warm member, and has resulted, according to Mr. Oliver's latest article in today's Benton Tribune, in a virtual challenge from Mr. Bradshaw to fight a duel. Mr. Oliver respectfully declines to accept, claiming that it is an effort to disqualify him from holding the office of Commonwealth's attorney to which he aspires, which it would do if he accepted.

The trouble started when Mr. Oliver a few weeks ago wrote an article denouncing to know who was responsible for the extravagance of criminal prosecution in Marshall county. It seems the state auditor, in his reports, called attention to the fact that prosecutions in Marshall county cost the state more than in any other county in the state, and Governor Beckham, in a message, commented on it. It is claimed that $2,500 was spent for witness fees in the conviction of only two persons last year. All witnesses for the prosecution are summoned by the Commonwealth and county attorneys, and it seems that whatever justification Mr. Oliver had, it did not prevent him from provoking the wrath of the Commonwealth's attorney.

So the latter replied in a letter to Mr. Oliver, and among other things said:

"I have no hesitancy in pronouncing you the most unscrupulous licensed lawyer in the state, and the most treacherous, and cowardly friend."

If Mr. Bradshaw exploded over his prosecution in Marshall county should cost the state more than anywhere else, Mr. Oliver does not record it. It seems that Mr. Oliver simply discharged a duty every newspaper man owes to the public in exposing an explanation in matters that concern the public.

Mr. Oliver attacks the charge of being an unscrupulous lawyer by suggesting that if Mr. Bradshaw really believed it and has any proof of it he should have him, Mr. Oliver, disbarred from practice at once. This seems to be a fair proposition, and if Mr. Bradshaw knows what he said to be a fact, he should do it at once, and if not, he ought to apologize to Mr. Oliver for misrepresenting him.

As to the cause of the controversy, it seems that if the Commonwealth and county attorneys are not to blame for the apparently exorbitant cost of prosecutions in Marshall county, an explanation to the eyes of the people, might prove far more effective than a letter of abuse.

The Elks carnival is going to be a success, and the greater the encouragement from the merchants and public at large, the greater the success. The last year made Paducah talked of everywhere. It was the most successful carnival ever given by a city of its size, and did a vast amount of good towards calling the attention of the outside world to Paducah. This year the Elks hope to have a greater carnival than last, and ask the co-operation of the people. It is not too soon to begin. The committees want to so arrange everything that matters will pass off as smoothly as if run by clock work. All possible assistance should be rendered now and not be delayed. A great deal of the success of the event depends on what is done now.

Kentucky has lost out on the army post site deal. The sites are not to be within hundreds of miles of us. One is to be in Pennsylvania, one in Wisconsin, one in California, one in Kansas, one in Texas, and one in Georgia. Preliminary surveys have been ordered made of the sites. We have one consolation, however, and that is that we put up a good fight for one of the posts.

Paducah wants the best possible plans for her public library. There is no reason why she should not have the best if she asks every architect who desires to enter the competition. If the plans are properly drawn, and a competent contractor does the building, there is no reason why the architect should ever have to come to Paducah. If any changes are desired, they should be made before the plans are accepted. Minor changes can be made by the contractor.

The old industries are all nearly dead, but the mineral as a snow is as popular as ever. The last of the black-faced pioneers to die was Neil Bryant, at the age of seventy-two. Thursday in New York. He was the fifth to go within a few months past. There is yet another, however, who holds on with wonderful vigor—Uncle Dan Emmett, the man who wrote "Dixie," and who has been reported dying a number of times within the past few years. Up to a few years ago he was able to appear in Al Fields' minstrel, but is now living in poverty near Mt. Vernon, Ill.

The ship industry still is coming in for its share of dissection in the news papers. The Democratic press, as usual, calls it a "steal," but the Democratic press is a chronic victim of stupidity. One of the clearest, most unbiased articles ever written on the subject was in a recent issue of the Philadelphia Post by Senator M. A. Hannan. It explains in the most lucid manner the cause and effect of such a bill, and leaves no room for doubt in the mind of an unprejudiced person. The one consolation is, however, that the Republicans can pass a solely bill without any assistance from the Democrats.

It seems from the Washington dispatches that Congress will do something for Cuba, but just what that will be is doubtful at present. There are three propositions before the ways and means committee, one being to increase the tariff on sugar to the outside world, and offer a rebate for all imported from Cuba; another to make Cuba a present of about $5,000,000, asking her to distribute one million of it to Cuban planters; and the third proposition is to reduce duties twenty percent. It is believed the latter is the most favored one, as it would injure no local industry.

FUNERAL OF MR. R. LOEB.

The pall bearers are: Arthur Messers, Sam Ellis, Henry Drayton, Michael Griffin, Herman Wilber, Herman Friedman, Daniel Wolf and John W. Koster. Honorary bearers: M. Bloom, Q. Q. O'Reilly, Charles L. In the Far East.

Not many of us realize that to within a few years the East was in the grip of a famine. As the famine spread, and as each city was a scene of death and despair, as if a fair was worthy of holding the other, then they knew how so as to bring the face, still averted, on a level with the knee, on which the palms of the hands are pressed, says the Penny Magazine. A succession of blizzards is next made, by drawing in the breath between the closed teeth, interspersed with a series of complimentary phrases, uttered with great volubility, in a sort of under-toned falsetto, each trying to outdo his friend in the rapidity and extravagance of his language, while the palms are diligently rubbed against each other.

BENEVOLENT WORK.

PROFITS ON BOOKS AT UNION GOSPEL GO TO CIVIC FEDERATION.

All the profit on the books sold during the union gospel meeting, which includes the song books, Mr. Bleders' sermons and other religious literature of a high grade of excellence, has been donated by Mr. Bleders to the Civic Federation for its benevolent work. As the books are very low in price and of a class not often found without ordering, a number have seized the opportunity to secure them, so a double good work is being done by the little books in their journeys into the homes of the people, that of helping the minds and bodies alike.

Don't forget to go to the German village tonight for fine barbecue.

PROGRESS IN AFRICA.

MISSIONARY NOTES EVIDENCE OF IMPROVEMENT MADE.

Contributions Entirely Wiped Out in the Congo Free State—He thinks the Barbarians Will in Time Become Civilized.

Rev. J. N. Cowley, a missionary to the Congo Free State, Africa, talking on the condition existing in the dark continent, recited some interesting facts showing the uncivilized state of the natives, and exhibited articles made and used by them in war and in peace. He showed the scant clothing worn by the high officers of the tribes, made from grass, woven by the women. The implements of warfare, the tribal weapons used, were made of iron, one of them having a handle of ivory. This Mr. Cowley said, required the greatest amount of skill. The iron ore is taken from the hills, melted in a pit in the ground, from which a small trench leads out through which the metal runs when melted. Then it is beaten into the shape desired with stones. These articles gave evidence of intelligence, the speaker thought, sufficient for a nucleus on which to base the belief that by skinning the barbarians could be changed into a civilized people.

He had noted some vast improvements in the beginning of missionary work in that part of the country. There was not a man in the entire Congo Free State now, he said, who would admit that he would eat human flesh, though the practice was common a few years ago. The large number of slaves killed at the death of a ruler for the purpose of accompanying the latter into the land of the dead, the African custom, as a practice, has been discontinued. It has been shown, the speaker declared, that the savage musical instruments of the natives were capable of being developed into a love for the hymn of the civil world. But, as a whole Mr. Cowley said, the people had not yet attained a very high standard of culture. They still buy and sell their wives, of whom they make slaves. Therefore, a man's wealth and influence is measured by the number of women slaves he can afford. All the land that is cultivated, he said, is taken care of by the women, with a small hoe, hoes and cattle being unknown as beasts of burden. Chickens, ducks, goats and hogs are raised to some extent. A small ant, which is so numerous as to be considered pests by civilized persons, and hogs form the staple diet. These ants will entirely destroy a house built of wood by eating the logs and rafters, and will eat a pile of shoes in a single night if the leather is left lying on the ground. The insects first cover the shoes with earth and then devour the leather.

HIGH-PRICED SERMON.

The Profit on One Discourse Amounts to $1,498.

The profit on one discourse delivered by a preacher who has not a congregation and had never been ordained, says London Answers, was $1,498. The sermon, which was in the number 173, when it was first published, Prof. Max Muller, in a speech on the value of the sermon, said it was one of the most interesting sermons ever heard, and when printed attracted brought in several hundred pounds. The world's sermon record is held by the late Mr. Spurgeon. His sermons have been published weekly for fifty years past, and there are still enough to last several years more. Over a hundred million copies have been sold, and their profits exceed those of any other half dozen preachers. For the most valuable single sermon ever preached, it is, however, not Mr. Spurgeon, but Canon Fleming, who holds the record. This discourse was first heard from the pulpit of Sandringham church, on the sad occasion of the death of the duke of Clarence. It was afterward published and its profits have since amounted to a total of $1,498 ($7,490). The money has been equally divided between the Gordon boys' home and the British home for incurables.

Getting at the Truth.
Having read the supposed witch into the pond, they regarded her with deep anxiety. "Is she sinking?" cried the stern magistrates, after a moment. "She drowns. She is therefore innocent!" That a murmur ran through the rabble. "Nay!" quoth these. "Let us not neglect her on merely circumstantial evidence!" For these rugged Puritans would be just, even though they thereby seemed to discredit a venerable and venerated custom.—New York Sun.

ARIZONA WILL POSITIVELY BE HERE Friday, March 14th

Ellery's Royal Italian Band, Saturday MATINEE AND NIGHT

IN THE THEATRICAL WORLD

The Kentucky's great week, beginning Sunday night.

Sunday Night--Prof. DeLancey, the Hypnotist.

Monday Night--"Quo Vadis," with Miss Flora Mae Clark as "Lygia."

Tuesday Night--"The Telephone Girl."

Wednesday Night--Miss Mary Linck in Song Recitals.

Friday Night--"Arizona."

nothing is of more absorbing interest to the cultivated and thinking world than hypnotism. Probably the most noted hypnotist of the age is Prof. Phillip DeLancey. Prof. DeLancey is the honor graduate of the Paris School of Science, where his wonderful hypnotic development was a source of absorbing interest to the teacher and student. Since his appearance on the American stage, Prof. DeLancey has been appearing in all the principal cities of the United States before immense audiences. He is tearing under the auspices of the Boston Psychological Research society, an organization which is well known to students of psychology in all civilized countries.

Prof. DeLancey is a mystery to the medical and scientific world, and physicians and educators of national prominence have tried in vain to account for the marvelous power of the man. At one of the Professor's exhibitions the dean of a prominent Philadelphia medical college exclaimed, "I give it up--this man is a riddle." He always uses his subjects volunteers from the audience before which he is appearing. Prof. DeLancey will give a special performance at The Kentucky on physicians on the stage with the Professor.

The greatest and most successful "repeater" lost and for two previous seasons, that ever came from that house of musical comedy successes, the New York Casino, was the famous and favorite musical comedy, "The Telephone Girl," and with one possible exception, it achieved larger financial returns. In all the large cities, beginning with New York, of course, it fairly coined money for its fortunate owners. In the metropolis it enjoyed a run of something like three hundred nights, and in Paris, acted a trifle differently, it made a record of three hundred and fifty performances. With as good, if not better, cast than ever, it will be the attraction at The Kentucky Tuesday night, March 11.

Carpenter's "Quo Vadis," which opened this season at the American theatre in Chicago, was pronounced by the critics to be the best dramatization of the famous novel which has been used. In view of the approval which "Quo Vadis" gained last year, it is not too much to predict an unqualified success for it this season. The company has been augmented by several new artists, and a complete stupendous scenic effect ever produced, while the scene in which Lygia is rescued from the hull is made thrillingly realistic by the introduction of the entire arena scene, showing the girl bound upon the animal's horns. This is the only company on the road which presents this incident, and it has created a furore. "Quo Vadis" will be seen here next Monday night, at The Kentucky.

Next Wednesday night, March 12th, Paducah music lovers will have an opportunity to witness the rarest treat of the season. Miss Mary Linck, for five years prima donna of the Castle Square Lyric Stock Co., will give a singing recital at The Kentucky. Miss Linck will be assisted by Miss Marie Hoover Ellis, pianist.

Miss Linck is now giving concerts over the country, and after considerable correspondence, the management of The Kentucky secured her for the night mentioned. Besides being the world's greatest contralto-mezzo-soprano, having the only voice of this kind in America, she has been selected as soloist for the opening of the St. Louis Exposition. Miss Linck was born in Evansville, Ind., and her first hit as a soloist was in the "Grand Duchess." She later sang the part of Nancy in "Mirtha," and then for nearly two years she traveled on the continent, spending most of her time in Italy perfecting herself in the Italian language. While in that country she attracted the attention of Signor Sonzogno, who offered her an engagement to sing "Puccini" in "L'Amico warts accepted an engagement with the Carl Rosa Opera Co., making her debut in "Faust," singing "Siebel" at the Royal Opera Theatre in Liverpool. This performance was the beginning of a series of triumphs that lasted for three years. In all, Miss Linck sang in fifteen operas and traveled through England and Scotland, performing in all the largest cities. At the end of her engagement with that company she joined Sir Augustus Harris' company, creating the part played of "Hansel" in "Hansel the Grete." She then came back to America, and played the part of the "witch." The Boston Evening News, in speaking of Miss Linck and grand opera, says: "Were I asked to name the most graceful singer on the American opera stage today, I would unhesitatingly award the place to Miss Mary Linck, the handsome young contralto of the Castle Square Opera company. I have seen them all, from Patti to Russell, and from Lilli to D'Arville; admired many, but still find none to compare with this young and talented lady, who has won first place in her chosen work simply because it is hers by right of merit."

Dimity and pretty little Adelaide Tharston, supported by Otis H. Thayer, will be seen here in her great success, "Sweet Clover," in the near future. The play is a comedy-drama, with some thrilling scenes. The production has been much admired elsewhere for its parity, poetical sweetness and general truthfulness to nature. The scenic features are described Friendless are meeting with great success in the sale of tickets for Miss Jessie Bartlett Davis and company, that will appear at The Kentucky Tuesday, April 1st.

Paducah theatre goers will shortly have opportunity to witness a play which has won universal favor elsewhere, but which, for some unknown reason, has never been presented in this city. The piece is Augustus Thomas' "Arizona," first presented in Chicago, and afterwards greatly admired by the ultra critical of New York. The company promised for the engagement here is the one which played at the Chicago Auditorium, and filled that large house at every performance. It is a military romance, both realistic and comic, and the best guarantee of its pleasing power is its universal success.

That brilliant musical comedy, "The Telephone Girl," will be seen here Tuesday night, March 11, at The Kentucky, and those who are fond of a jolly evening (and who isn't?) had better be on the qui vive. She comes surrounded with her pretty sisters, clever comedians, and all that goes to constitute a first class production. Nobody should miss "The Telephone Girl."

Madame Lillian Nordica, at Wichita, Kan., the other day, sang to an audience of 2,000 persons. An unique feature of the concert was the transmission of the music by telephone to various parts of the city, also to other cities, even to New York City. Re-

EDDYVILLE MARRIAGE

Mr. S. N. Leonard and Miss Onie Long Wed There.

Groom is Well Known in Paducah—Is Lyon County's Wealthiest Man.

The following from today's Eddyville Tale of Two Cities will be read here with interest by friends of Mr. S. N. Leonard of Eddyville: "The friends of Mr. S. N. Leonard and Miss Onie Long were agreeably surprised when they learned of their marriage. The ceremony took place Monday evening at the parsonage in Eddyville, and was witnessed by only a few of their most intimate friends. Indeed, so well had they guarded their secret that only two or three of their best friends knew when the happy event was to take place. Rev. U. S. Taylor spoke the words that made them one."

"This is the sequel to a long courtship, and the happy couple have been overwhelmed with congratulations and good wishes from their many friends."

"Mr. Leonard is one of the most popular and best known men in this end of the state, and is president of the Farmer's Bank and Swanee Spoke and Lumber company; also a large holder of stocks in street car lines and mineral and farming properties. The bride is the accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. H. Long of Eddyville, and is one of the handsomest and most fascinating women in the state, and is greatly admired by everyone. Her exquisite beauty is only equalled by her goodness of heart and gentleness of manner. Refined, beautiful and accomplished, she will, by love, reign queen of her home."

"We congratulate Mr. Leonard in winning the heart and hand of one so fair, and join their numerous friends in wishing them a long life of happiness."

Mr. Leonard is father of Mrs. J. Wheeler Campbell of the city, and of Mr. Tom Leonard, formerly connected with the street railway here.

celebrates the size of the ordinary telephone boothpieces were placed among the footlights. Mrs. Nordica did not learn of the shrewd arrangement for the telephone concert until a few minutes before singing the last number. She was indignant, and almost refused to sing the closing selection. Mrs. Nordica said after the concert that never again would she sing into a telephone, and that hereafter her managers would investigate the stage to see if there were any receivers secreted. She said that those who heard her by telephone would have a false impression of her singing.

Miss Jessie Battlett Davis is appearing at Chicago this week, her fifth return week there this season.

Miss Flora Mae Clark in "Quo Vadis" Monday night at The Kentucky, will receive a rousing reception from her old friends.

"Tennessee's Bardner," arrived from Cairo on the Dick Fowler this morning, and will give two performances at The Kentucky, one this afternoon and the other tonight. Miss Jane Corcoran was seen in the leading role a season or two ago, but is this year in "At the Old Cross Roads."

The Introducing Habit.

It is extremely difficult for a good natured man to escape promiscuous introductions. He might not hesitate to offend the ladies, but certainly could not do so before that unfortunate gentleman's friends, out of regard for them. Capric enters a public resort alone, and would like to remain alone. Indeed, standing with three friends calls out to Capric, "How do you come here? I want to introduce you to some friends of mine." Could Capric turn tail and flee? While resenting Trapsie's familiarity, he feels that the gentlemanlike thing to do is to meet the strangers. "Cap, shake hands with my friend Shay, my friend Squay, and my friend Skay." That is how the usual and approval formula. All good fellows, right down to the ground, but Trapsie is presuming. Why should he not first have excused himself to his friends and gone quietly to Capric to leave, sub rosa, if the latter cared at that time to make the acquaintance of Shay, Squay and Skay? Never! Trapsie is possessed of no innate desire to introduce folk, and nothing short of a kick in the neck or a poke in the solar plexus will restore him to sanity.—New York Press.

BANNER SALVE
The most healing ointment in the world.

ABOUT CATARRH CURES.

THE REASON WHY INHALEES AND LOCAL APPLICATIONS ARE USELESS.

For many years catarrh was considered to be a local disease, and was treated entirely by local remedies, salves, ointments, powders, sprays and inhalers, and nearly all of these gave a temporary relief, but a genuine, permanent cure was very rare.

It is true the most annoying symptoms, like stoppage of the nose, and throat troubles, are purely local, but they are simply symptoms, and the real seat of disease is far removed.

Catarrh is a constitutional disease, a blood disorder, complicated usually with disease of the liver and to suppose that local applications of sprays, powders, inhalers, could ever reach the real cause of the trouble is ridiculous.

The sensible and successful treatment is to remove the catarrhal poison from the system by regulating the liver and purifying the blood, and this can only be done by an internal remedy, which should consist of antiseptics and remedies to act vigorously on the blood and liver.

The best preparation of this kind which fills all the requirements of a safe constitutional treatment is Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, composed of blood root, red gum and similar wholesome antiseptics, which are absolutely safe to take into the stomach, and which act upon the liver, stomach and mucous membrane.

Stuart's Catarrh Tablets are large, pleasant tasting lozenges, to be slowly dissolved in the mouth, thus reaching the mucous membrane and wild pipe and finally reaching the stomach.

Dr. Elihu Nelson, in speaking of the new treatment for catarrh, says: "I have accomplished the most satisfactory results in all forms of catarrh of the head, throat, bronchial tubes, as well as catarrh of the stomach and liver by using nothing else but Stuart's Catarrh Tablets. I long since threw aside sprays and inhalers as being inconvenient and at the best mere temporary makeshifts."

Stuart's Catarrh Tablets act immediately upon the liver and blood, and clear the whole system of catarrhal poison. They are pleasant and very convenient to use, and they are not only the latest, but I believe them to be the best and certainly the safest treatment for any form of catarrh."

All druggists sell Stuart's Catarrh Tablets at 50 cents for full sized package.

DEATH IN LYON.

Rev. L. H. Duncan was called to Lyon county last night by the death of Mr. Samuel Donean, his father, 93 years old. The deceased died at his home two miles from Eddyville, and had been a resident of Lyon county nearly all his life, having served as sheriff and been otherwise honored by the people. He leaves a wife who is 84 years old, and eight children.

Owing to the fact that much water stands in Oak Grove cemetery, the council has ordered estimates made by Engineer Wilcox on the amount of piping necessary to drain it. It is believed that between 4,000 and 5,000 feet will be necessary, from three inches to much larger pipe.

Women's Irregular Menses

Stanton, Mo., May 26, 1900.

I have always suffered with terrible pains at my monthly periods. These last three months I have taken three bottles of Wine of Cardui and three packages of Theodor's Black-Draught, according to your instructions, and now have no pains at all. As I have always suffered before, all during the time, I can safely say the medicines have done me much good. I consider your Theodor's Black-Draught a fine remedy. I think your medicines stand at the head of all others in regulating the monthly periods. SOPHIA LOTTMAN.

Regular habits are the foundation of a woman's health. She courts disastrous sickness and even death itself, when she allows herself to keep very late hours. It is unnatural for anyone to spend sleepless nights and drowsy, fretful days. This strain strikes at the vital center of womanhood, the nervous system and deranged menstruation, with all its appalling suffering, is the result.

WINE OF CARDUI

will regulate the menstrual flow. It makes strong nerves. Mrs. Lottman suffered because her menses were irregular, and Wine of Cardui cured her of a very severe illness. A woman who is careful to take Wine of Cardui to correct irregularities need never know the suffering so many of her sisters endure. Wine of Cardui has cured 1,000,000 sufferers, many worse cases than Mrs. Lottman's. Don't suffer any longer. The offer of such a remedy as Wine of Cardui puts the whole matter in your hands. Will you get a $1.00 bottle of Wine of Cardui from your druggist to-day and secure speedy relief?

DANGER OF PROCRASTINATION

Subject of Strong Sermon Last Night at Union Revival.

Service Tonight and Twice Tomorrow—Great Occasions.

A large congregation heard Rev. W. E. Biederwolf and Prof. Maxwell at the union gospel meeting last night. While the evening was an especially disagreeable one, the crowd stood the weather-test very well, which was proof of the great interest felt throughout the city.

At the close of the song service, and before the sermon, Mr. Maxwell sang by request "Count Your Blessings," with earnest feeling.

Mr. Biederwolf preached an especially strong and thoughtful sermon from Exodus 8: 10—"And he said to-morrow." Probably that verse had been read time and again by his audience with no especial thought, but having heard him last night, it will ever after mean much to them. In his vivid introduction he stressed our proneness to postpone; especially is this noticeable in the affairs of the other world. "Procrastination is not only the thief of time," but robs heaven of its finest jewels." Some reasons people give for waiting to become Christians: 1. To get better. 2. Until I understand. 3. Until I have the right kind of feeling. Not a matter of feeling, but of duty. 4. Waiting to live up to it. If all did this, there would be no use for Christians. God's standard is perfection, but no one lives up to it. After amplifying these points in a fine way, Mr. Biederwolf gave the following practical reasons why we should not say tomorrow, instead of today: 1. Decide tonight to deal honestly with God. 2. Decide now, because you are missing much of the real work of life. 3. Decide today, and not tomorrow, in order that you may lay up treasure in heaven. Every day you put off becoming a Christian you become poorer in heaven. 5. Decide today, because there will be no time to decide in the life to come. 6. Begin now, that your influence may be helpful to others. 7. Begin today, and not tomorrow, for you know not what a day may bring forth. Mr. Biederwolf's closing exhortation was most eloquent, and was, indeed, a solemn charge to the consciences of his audience. Many remained to the after-service, and there was deep interest manifested. It was an especially beautiful and helpful service.

There will be service tonight at 7:30 at the Broadway Methodist church. Mr. Biederwolf will preach, and Mr. Maxwell will sing "Paul and Silas," by request, and probably the "Invisible Choir," also. All should be present at this service.

No one will want to miss tomorrow's service, which will be the last in this great union gospel meeting. Mr. Biederwolf and Mr. Maxwell have made many warm friends, and Paducah regrets to have them go.

Tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock there will be the big mass meeting for men only at the Broadway Methodist church. Mr. Biederwolf will preach on "The Unpardonable Sin," and Mr. Maxwell will sing "Shall I Meet My Sainted Mother." Every man in Paducah should seize this great opportunity.

Sunday night will be a "Farewell Service," and the Broadway Methodist church will be crowded. It will be a deeply interesting occasion.

RUBIES AND DIAMONDS.

The Former Are Becoming More Rare and Cost More Than Latter.

All the world loves a ruby—or should; and all who know their fascination will welcome some facts concerning them which have been given currency by a Paris technical journal, Le Diamant, which ere of timely interest, in view of the increasing popularity of these gems and their recent material advance in price.

There are three varieties—oriental, Siamese and the spinel. The first is the most beautiful of all colored gems. They are becoming more and more rare and, weight for weight, are valued ten to twenty fold the price of diamonds. The best come from Ceylon, India and China.

The Siamese rubies are very dark red, the spinel is less richly colored. The largest ruby known is one of the crown jewels of Russia. The shah of Persia has a ruby of 175 carats. Gustavus Adolphus of Sweden had one of the size of a small egg and of perfect water, which was presented to the czar of Russia in 1677. 1791 France had in its crown jewels eighty-one oriental rubies.

Gems of small intrinsic value are just now commanding prices higher than they would be valued at by experts, which is always the case with stones which become fashionable, and it is a safe rule that those who buy stones of this class should exercise the same care they would or should in purchasing diamonds. The demand has called out a large number of second and third class rubies from their hiding places, and in new mountings they are masquerading as jewels of great price.

The ruby is skillfully imitated, says the New York Times, and not a few are worn which are only of the grade of paste diamonds without a suspicion on the part of their owners that they are not what they are assumed to be. No hargains in desirable rubies are to be had in the markets of Europe or America. Those worth buying for investment are snapped up on sight by the gem sharps, and the person who purchases from them will in every instance pay their value.

Grammatical Tailor's Goose.

The following story clearly demonstrates that there is no plural of a "tailor's goose." The tailor was sending an order for two, so he wrote: "Dear Sir: Please send me two tailor's geese." This did not look right, so he wrote another: "Dear Sir: Please send me two tailor's geese." This appeared even worse than the geese, so in desperation he finally wrote: "Dear Sir: Please send me a tailor's goose, and damn it all, send me another." As to plural of mother-in-law, it would be very "singular" if a man should want two.

No Carpet Beating in New York.

The health board has sent out orders to all citizens of this and other boroughs that no rugs shall be beaten in the yard or on the roof. The reason therefor is that germs and microbes are set loose in the operation of beating, much to the detriment of the general health. There are vacant lots in the city, wherein rugs and carpets may be beaten until they weep. It must be far more detrimental to the general health to beat them in vacant lots than on the housetops, for on the housetops there is a chance for the wind to carry off the germs and drop them into the sea.—New York Press.
